

Prospective New Course Owner Postpones Meeting With RVRMA Board

The prospective new owner of the RVR golf course has, for the second time in a month, postponed its initial meeting with the RVRMA Board and Golf Advisory Committee.

The meeting, scheduled for the first week in November, is now expected to take place the following week. A previous meeting, scheduled for the first week in October, was also cancelled by the new owner.

The new ownership group, known as Crystal Outdoors, LLC, will be represented at the early November meeting by Dan Coleman, the group's local "point person." Coleman rents a home at RVR.

Meanwhile, an attorney for Crystal Outdoors says the entity remains on track to close on its purchase contract for the golf course around November 15.

When the meeting does occur, the Board and the Committee hope to learn more about the ownership group, its intentions for the golf course, and what kind of relationship it wants with the RVRMA.

Following the meeting, we will update the RVR community in this space. These weekly Golf Updates are the best way to stay in the know on the golf course situation.
